IN preparing this Second Supplement, the scheme of the original Catalogue (1865) and its First Supplement (1870) has been, in the main, followed for the sake of uniformity; but some alterations in the treatment have been adopted, partly as facilitating reference and partly on account of various new serial publications, which are better catalogued as a whole than under the names of the different writers whose papers are comprised in them. The publications of our own Admiralty and of the French Dépôt des Cartes et Plans de la Marine, and the various Indian, American and Colonial Scientific Surveys, may be mentioned as instances of this kind. Cross-references have been given in these cases, and also elsewhere, wherever such treatment is likely to aid the searcher (e.g. the separate authors of the volumes of the Hakluyt Society's Publications, Baer und Helmersen's Beiträge, &c.). The names of the ships in which noteworthy voyages have been made are also separately catalogued.

In accordance with ordinary modern usage, the names of authors with the simple prefix "De" or "Von" or their equivalents, are catalogued under the initial letter of the name following the prefix; but when the prefix is followed by an article, both are treated as if part of the name.
