Deosai Plains

The Deosai Plains is a remarkable area 13000' or more in altitude, surrounded by snowy mts. lying between the main Himalayan range in Kashmir and the Indus Valley in Baltistan. The passes leading down to Skardu in Baltistan are from 14 - 16000ft. The area is a bit of arctic like tundra in the center of the Himalayas. It is uninhabited but crossed by trails used by caravans or an occasional hunter or shepherd. It is free of snow for about ten weeks and in July is alive with myriads of mosquitoes.
